

NEW

World poverty

New policies to defeat an old enemy

Edited by Peter Townsend, London School of Economics and Political Science and David Gordon, University of Bristol, UK

"... a valuable contribution to the integration of human rights values into world poverty reduction strategies."

Mary Robinson, United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights

World poverty is a major new book offering fresh insights into how to tackle poverty worldwide. With contributions from leading international scholars in the field, the book asks whether existing international and national policies are likely to succeed in reducing poverty across the world. It concludes that they are not and that a radically different strategy is needed.

Contents: Part I: International anti-poverty policy: the problems of the Washington Consensus, Part II: Anti-poverty policies in rich countries, Part III: Anti-poverty policies in poor countries, Part IV: Future anti-poverty policies: national and international.

PB £25.00 (US$35.00) ISBN 1 86134 395 7
 HB £55.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 396 5
 480 pages September 2002. Studies in Poverty, Inequality and Social Exclusion series

Breadline Europe

The measurement of poverty

Edited by David Gordon, University of Bristol and Peter Townsend, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

With contributions from leading European poverty experts, Breadline Europe presents up-to-date and cutting-edge international poverty research in one volume.

PB £17.99 (US$28.95) ISBN 1 86134 292 6
 HB £50.00 (US$59.95) ISBN 1 86134 293 4
 480 pages December 2000. Studies in Poverty, Inequality and Social Exclusion series

The right to learn

Educational strategies for socially excluded youth in Europe

Edited by Ides Nicaise, University of Leuven, Belgium

"... there is a wealth of information here. Current provision may remain 'inadequate' if the challenges of social exclusion are to be tackled, but a comprehensive tool-kit of potentially relevant interventions is provided in this book." Work, Employment & Society

PB £18.99 (US$34.50) ISBN 1 86134 288 8
 432 pages November 2000

The welfare we want?

The British challenge for American reform

NEW

Edited by Robert Walker, University of Nottingham, UK and Michael Wiseman, National Opinion Research Center, USA

"This excellent book contains a collection of engaging, carefully researched and well-written essays. It makes an invaluable contribution to ongoing debates about welfare." Mark Wickham-Jones, University of Bristol, UK

The welfare we want? draws on British experience to inform debates about the future of welfare in the US as well as the UK. It offers a succinct, comparative analysis of the goals and processes of welfare reform in both countries, examining taxation, benefits and anti-poverty programmes amongst others. The book provides a readily accessible account of British welfare reform for US readers and highlights specific opportunities for collaboration in policy and program development.

PB £18.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 407 4
 HB £50.00 (US$59.95) ISBN 1 86134 408 2
 256 pages tbc May 2003

Corporate power and social policy in a global economy

Under the influence

NEW

Kevin Farnsworth, South Bank University, UK

This ground-breaking book investigates and documents corporate influence on social policies at global/regional, national and local levels.

PB £21.99 US$32.50 ISBN 1 86134 473 2
 HB £50.00 US$79.95 ISBN 1 86134 474 0
 176 pages tbc October 2003

Comparing social policies

Exploring new perspectives in Britain and Japan

NEW

Edited by Misa Izuhara, University of Bristol, UK

"... well-conceived and excellently executed." Roger Goodman, Nissan Institute of Japanese Studies, University of Oxford, UK

This book fills a gap in the comparative social policy literature. It provides a rich background to the development of post-war social policy in Britain and Japan. Five specific policy areas – ageing, domestic violence, housing, homelessness, and health – are chosen for analysis, each exploring its development process of policy and practices, current issues, and future directions.

PB £18.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 366 3
 HB £50.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 367 1
 256 pages tbc February 2003

Active social policies in the EU

Inclusion through participation?

NEW

Edited by Rik van Berkel, Utrecht University, the Netherlands and Iver Hornemann Møller, Centre for Social Integration and Differentiation, Denmark

"... a most welcome contribution to ongoing debates." Matti Heikkilä, STAKES, Finland

Drawing on original empirical comparative research, this book investigates the inclusionary and exclusionary potentials of different types of work, including activation programmes. It includes the perspectives of service users in its analyses, challenges current policy assumptions and makes recommendations for the future design of activating policies.

PB £19.99 (US$32.50) ISBN 1 86134 280 2
 HB £50.00 (US$75.00) ISBN 1 86134 281 0
 240 pages September 2002

NEW

Europe's new state of welfare

Unemployment, employment policies and citizenship

Edited by Jochen Clasen, University of Stirling, UK, Jørgen Goul Andersen, Knut Halvorsen and Wim van Oorschot

"... an excellent introduction to debates about employment policies in Europe." Neil Fraser, University of Edinburgh, UK

This authoritative book uses in-depth, comparative and interdisciplinary analysis to compare the labour markets and welfare policies of several European countries.

PB £23.99 (US$35.00) ISBN 1 86134 437 6
 HB £55.00 (US$79.95) ISBN 1 86134 438 4
 304 pages tbc November 2002

Changing labour markets, welfare policies and citizenship

Edited by Jørgen Goul Andersen and Per H. Jensen, Aalborg University, Denmark

Social marginalisation due to labour market change poses a major challenge to international welfare states. Based on research from the European COST A13 network, this book contributes significantly to the understanding of policy problems and the development of appropriate strategies to preserve full citizenship.

PB £18.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 272 1
 HB £45.00 (US$59.95) ISBN 1 86134 273 X
 320 pages January 2002

What future for social security? Debates and reforms in national and cross-national perspective

Edited by Jochen Clasen, University of Stirling, UK

"Anyone concerned with how welfare provision is being shaped for the future would be well advised to invest in this book." Katherine Rake, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

It is widely assumed today that the 'welfare state' is contracting or retrenching as an effect of the close scrutiny to which entitlement to social security benefits is being subject in most developed countries. In this book, fifteen authorities from nine different countries – the UK, the Netherlands, France, Germany, Spain, Denmark, Finland, Norway and the US – investigate to what extent this assumption is warranted.

PB £18.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 410 4
304 pages July 2002

Youth unemployment and social exclusion in Europe A comparative study

Edited by Torild Hammer, NOVA Norwegian Social Research, Norway

"... a must for anyone with an interest in youth policy." Ken Roberts, University of Liverpool, UK

This important new book presents the findings of the first comparative study of unemployed youth in Europe using a large and original data set. With contributions from leading experts in the field, Youth unemployment and social exclusion in Europe is essential reading for students and academics involved in labour market research and the study of social policy.

PB £18.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 368 X
HB £50.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 369 8
256 pages tbc June 2003

'An offer you can't refuse' Workfare in international perspective

Edited by Ivar Lødemel, Fafo Institute for Applied Social Science, Norway and Heather Trickey, Inland Revenue, UK

"... an essential resource for students and others in social policy." Journal of Sociology and Social Welfare

'An offer you can't refuse' compares, in depth, international 'work-for-welfare' (workfare) policies objectively for the first time. It considers well-publicised schemes from the United States alongside more overlooked examples of workfare in Britain, Denmark, France, Germany, The Netherlands and Norway.

PB £17.99 (US$28.95) ISBN 1 86134 195 4
384 pages January 2001

NEW
IN PAPERBACK

Biography and social exclusion in Europe Experiences and life journeys

Edited by Prue Chamberlayne, The Open University, Michael Rustin, University of East London and Tom Wengraf, Middlesex University

"... a highly exciting and innovative book." Walter Lorenz, University College Cork, Ireland

Throughout Europe, standardised approaches to social policy and practice are being radically questioned and modified. Beginning from the narrative detail of individual lives, this book re-thinks welfare predicaments, emphasising gender, generation, ethnic and class implications of economic and social deregulation.

PB £19.99 (US$32.50) ISBN 1 86134 309 4
HB £50.00 (US$75.00) ISBN 1 86134 310 8
352 pages tbc November 2002

Social assistance dynamics in Europe National and local poverty regimes

Edited by Chiara Saraceno, University of Torino, Italy

"... essential reading for anyone interested in the reform of tax and benefits." Citizen's Income

Describing social assistance 'careers' in different national and urban contexts, this innovative book documents the strong interplay between personal biographies and policy patterns – a particularly useful perspective which complements the more structural, top-down approach of much international work in social policy.

PB £17.99 (US$28.95) ISBN 1 86134 314 0
HB £45.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 315 9
320 pages January 2002

Lone parents, employment and social policy Cross-national comparisons

Edited by Jane Millar and Karen Rowlingson, University of Bath, UK

"This book stands as a model not only for the substantive analysis of policies that affect lone parents, but as an example of the way in which the best international social policy research should be conducted." Nick Manning, University of Nottingham, UK

Policy makers across the world are confronting issues relating to lone parents and employment, with many governments seeking to increase the participation of lone parents in the labour market. This book offers an up-to-date analysis of policies and provisions in the UK, US, Australia, France, the Netherlands and Norway. It examines whether and how policies support and encourage employment, and draws out policy lessons. Chapters are written by leading experts on lone parenthood in each country.

PB £16.99 (US$28.95) ISBN 1 86134 320 5
HB £45.00 (US$59.95) ISBN 1 86134 321 3
320 pages November 2001

NEW

NEW

Social Policy Review 15 UK and international perspectives

Edited by Catherine Bochel, University of Lincolnshire and Humberside, Nick Ellison, University of Durham and Martin Powell, University of Bath, UK

"Social Policy Review keeps us reliably informed about the latest policy developments and literature in the UK and beyond. With the UK situated at the interface between North America and Europe, it provides an important common ground for discussing social policy internationally." Stephan Leibfried, Bremen University, Germany

Social Policy Review is an annual selection of commissioned articles focusing on developments and debates in social policy in the UK, Europe and internationally.

Contents: Part One: UK Social policy: Thinking historically about integration David Gladstone; Invest and reform: Spending Review 2002 and its control regime Richard Parry; Who choosing what? The evolution of the use of 'Choice' in the NHS, and its importance for New Labour Ian Greener; Part Two: International issues: 'Globalisation/welfare: what's the preposition? An, or, versus, with?' Herman Schwartz; 'Theories of convergence and evolution of social welfare systems' Denis Bouget; Analysing the health transition: what the Greek case tells us about social determinants of health Mick Carpenter; United States welfare reform Pamela Holcomb and Karin Martinson; Social policy in the East Asian Tiger economies: past, present and future Ian Holliday and Paul Wilding; Part Three: In focus: pensions and old age: Adapting pension systems to labour market changes in western Europe Giuliano Bonoli and Benoît Gay-des-Combes; Pension choices for the 21st Century Jane Falkingham and Katherine Rake; The Schlock and the new: risk, reflexivity and retirement Kirk Mann; Pension sharing on divorce: the future for women Debora Price.

PB £19.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 469 4
Price for members of the UK Social Policy Association: PB £12.99
HB £50.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 470 8
312 pages tbc July 2003. Published in association with the Social Policy Association

Social Policy Review 14 Developments and debates: 2001-2002

Edited by Robert Sykes, Sheffield Hallam University, Catherine Bochel, University of Lincolnshire and Humberside and Nick Ellison, University of Durham, UK
PB £18.99 (US$32.50) ISBN 1 86134 377 9
SPA members special rate: £12.00
HB £50.00 (US$75.00) ISBN 1 86134 378 7
312 pages July 2002
Published in association with the Social Policy Association

SUBSCRIBE TO SOCIAL POLICY REVIEW AND GET A 20% DISCOUNT
See order form for details

Senior citizenship? Retirement, migration and welfare in the European Union

NEW

Louise Ackers and Peter Dwyer,
University of Leeds, UK

"... an original and distinctive contribution to the debates on 'a social Europe'."
Tony Warnes, Sheffield Institute for Studies on Ageing, UK

This book charts the development of mobility and welfare rights for retired people. It raises important issues around the future of social citizenship and the implications of the exercise of agency in an increasingly global and mobile world.

PB £18.99 (US$35.00) ISBN 1 86134 264 0
232 pages June 2002

Gender, pensions and the lifecycle

NEW

How pensions need to adapt to changing family forms

Jay Ginn, University of Surrey, UK

This book provides an analysis, from a feminist perspective, of gender inequality in retirement income. The British situation is compared with that of other European countries. Chapters examines key issues in the pensions debate:

- how pension choices over the lifecycle are structured by gender, class and ethnicity;
- the impact of changing patterns of partnership and parenthood on pension building;
- the distributional impact of privatising pensions;
- questions about individualisation of rights, survivor benefits, a citizen's pension and means-testing;
- the EU dimension – comparing alternative strategies for improving gender equity.

PB £17.99 (US$28.95) ISBN 1 86134 337 X
HB £45.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 338 8
128 pages tbc June 2003

The gender dimension of social change

NEW

The contribution of dynamic research to the study of women's life courses

Edited by Elisabetta Ruspini,
University of Milano-Bicocca,
Italy and Angela Dale, University of Manchester, UK

This new study uses longitudinal data – information gathered over a considerable period of time – to provide new insights into the changing dynamics of women's lives today. In particular, it explores the potential of longitudinal or life course analysis as a powerful tool for appreciating the gender dimension of social life. The contributors view the data from a policy perspective and use comparative analysis from Britain, Germany, the Netherlands, Sweden and Japan to expand our understanding of women's life courses in relation to both men and women and the system of inequality.

HB £35.00 (US$55.00) ISBN 1 86134 332 9
312 pages May 2002

Approaching retirement Social divisions, welfare and exclusion

Kirk Mann, University of Leeds, UK

*"... an important and insightful book which deserves to be widely consulted.
Kirk Mann's ability to synthesize theory and policy issues is truly impressive.
He demonstrates just how sophisticated social policy scholarship has become."*
James Midgley, University of California,
Berkeley, USA

This book assesses different national approaches to retirement pensions policy, highlighting their relative strengths and weaknesses. An invaluable resource for social science students at all levels, and for those who teach them.

PB £17.99 (US$32.50) ISBN 1 86134 282 9
HB £45.00 (US$69.95) ISBN 1 86134 283 7
288 pages November 2001

Diminished rights Danish lone mother families in international context

Valerie Polakow, Eastern Michigan
University, USA, Therese Halskov,
The National Danish School of Social
Work and Per Schultz Jørgensen,
Royal Danish School of Educational Studies, Denmark

PB £14.99 (US$23.95) ISBN 1 86134 277 2
204 pages July 2001

The welfare of Europe's children Are EU member states converging?

John Micklewright and Kitty Stewart
PB £14.99 (US$26.95) ISBN 1 86134 226 8
168 pages April 2000
Published in association with UNICEF

Child well-being, child poverty and child policy in modern nations What do we know?

Edited by Timothy M. Smeeding,
Syracuse University, USA and Koen
Vleminckx, Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium

*"... a truly comprehensive, rigorous, and up-to-date treatment of all the major issues.
This book is an absolute must for academics as well as policy makers – by far the best available today."* Gosta Esping-Andersen, University Pompeu Fabra, Spain

This authoritative book presents the latest findings of some of the world's leading scientists on child poverty and the well-being of children.

PB £18.99 (US$29.95) ISBN 1 86134 253 5
HB £45.00 (US$59.95) ISBN 1 86134 254 3
592 pages February 2001

NEW

Access to housing Homelessness and vulnerability in Europe

Joe Doherty, University of St
Andrews, Bill Edgar, University of Dundee, UK and Henk Meert

*"Despite the large literature on homelessness
there is very little work that is comparative.
This important book fills that gap."*
Christine Oldman, University of York, UK

This comprehensive book offers the first EU wide examination of housing provision, its changing nature and impact on homelessness. It identifies the institutional changes and policy prescriptions that are necessary to manage the demands of homelessness and inadequate housing among Europe's most vulnerable people.

PB £19.99 (US$27.50) ISBN 1 86134 482 1
176 pages October 2002

Women and homelessness in Europe Pathways, services and experiences

Joe Doherty, University of St Andrews and Bill Edgar,
University of Dundee, UK

This book examines the gender-specific factors leading to homelessness and the ability of women to access appropriate services for rehousing and social integration.

PB £15.99 (US$28.95)
ISBN 1 86134 351 5
296 pages September 2001

Empowerment indicators Combating social exclusion in Europe

Nicholas Walters, Simon Lygo-Baker and Sanja Strkljevic, University of Surrey, UK

This study takes a fresh look at the concept of empowerment. It examines it within the context of increased globalisation and policy emphasis on human rights.

PB £14.99 (US$26.95) ISBN 1 86134 334 5
A4 Report 48 pages June 2001

Social market or safety net? British social rented housing in a European context

Mark Stephens, Nicky Burns and Lisa
McKay, University of Glasgow, UK

This timely report provides a comparative analysis of the social rented sector in seven European countries.

PB £12.95 (US$23.50) ISBN 1 86134 387 6
A4 Report 64 pages February 2002
Published in association with the Joseph
Rowntree Foundation

